THE EVIDENCE ALL IN.

NEAR THE END OF THE BUCHANAN TRIAL.

CONTRADICTING THE DEFENDANT-FINAL VOL-

LEYS OF THE EXPERTS. The end of the trial of Dr. Robert W. Buchanan in General Sessions is clearly in sight. The last of the testimony was given yesterday and on Monday at 10 a. m. Charles W. Brooke will sum up the case for the defence. In the afternoon District In the afternoon District Attorney De Lancey Nicoll will address the jury and then Recorder*Smyth will deliver his charge.

Yesterday was spent in clearing up the odds and ends of the evidence. Dr. Mark H. Williams, of No. 227 West One-hundred-and-thirty-fifth-st., was called to testify that on April 22 last he had a consultation with Dr. Buchanan over a patient in West Eleventh-st. This was to show why the prisoner left the bedside of his dying wife. That ended the case for the defence. In rebuttal Mr. Nicoll called Mrs. Ida B. Brockway. She declared that the spoon with which the prisoner gave his wife medicine was an ordinary teaspoon. He had testified that it was a child's spoon, and he had therefore given his wife two doses of medicine instead of one, as Dr. McIntyre had prescribed. The prisoner swore that all the ordinary spoons had been packed up. Mrs. Childs, the nurse, corroborated Mrs. Brockway, saying that saw half a dozen teaspoons lying around in the was certain that the defendant had not used a child's on in giving his wife medicine.

Professor Doremus was recalled to defend his course in analyzing the organs of Mrs. Buchanan against the attacks made on it by Dr. Scheele. He reiterated his conviction that he had found morphine. Professor Witthaus also took the stand again. He said he had studied about ptomaines since 1878. He was still certain that morphine alone would give the reactions he obtained. The chemical analysis suggested by Dr. Scheele he considered impossible. Then he made some experiments with ptomaines, ptomaines and morphine together and pure morphine to show that merphine gave different reactions from Professor Vaughan, for the defence, had said that indol would give the same results as those obtained by Professor Witthaus with the residue from Mrs. Buchanan's organs. The witness made sane tests in court to disprove this. The indol which he used certainly did not act as Professor Vaughan said it The expert for the defence, however, took the stand to say that he meant indol made from decomposing animal matter. Professor Witthaus, he said, had used indol made from indigo. This was entirely different.

Henry H. Savage, who has been clerk in the outdoor department of Bellevue Hospital for twelve years, testified that Dr. Janeway never prescribed for patients who merely visited the hospital for treatment. No Mrs. Buchanan had been treated in the outdoor department for several years at least. This evidence was to meet the statement of Dr. Buchanan that his wife had been treated at Bellevue Hospital as an outdoor patient by Dr. Janeway.

Herman Lehmus, who worked for Buchanan at his home, testified to unimportant details. Then Charles W. Prooke moved that the indictment be dismissed for lack of proof. The Recorder denied the motion. Mr. Brooke asked next that the District-Attorney Mr. Brooke asked next that the District-Attorney elect which of the two counts of the indictment he would go to the jury on. Mr. Nicoll chose the second. The first charges that the defendant gave his wife morphine; the second that he gave poisons the names of which were unknown to the Grand Jury.

W. J. O'Sullivan, of the defence, and Assistant District-Attorney Wellman had several little encounters in the course of the day. Mr. O'Sullivan interrupted witnesses so frequently that Recorder Smyth reproved him for having bad manners. "Oh, he was at the Clover Club dinner last night," interjected Mr. Wellman. "That ought to excuse him." Mr. O'Sullivan acknowledged the hit with a smile.

BUCHANAN AN HOUR IN A "GIN-MILL."

John J. Lynch, the prison guard in charge of Dr. R. W. Buchanan, on trial for murder, lost his place yesterday for accompanying his prisoner into a liquor-store on Monday evening and allowing him to drink with a friend of Buchanan's, who met them as they were on their way to the Tombs after court adjourned. Sheriff Gorman on hearing of Lynch's misconduct sent for the keeper of the liquor-store, misconduct sent for the Reeper of the Equor-store, which is at Elm and Leonard sts., and got an affidavit from him narrating the facts. From this it appeared that Lynch, Buchanan and the prisoner's friend spent most of the time between 5:30 and 6:30 p. m. in the gln-mill. Then the Sheriff sent for Lynch, who denied that he was in charge of Buchange on Monday, but Mr. Gorgon, showed him Buchanan on Monday, but Mr. Gorman showed his derelict officer the saloon keeper's affidavit, and dismissed him from the prison guard. He also sent notice of the man's discharge to Recorder Smyth.

CLUBHOUSES IN THE ADIRONDACKS.

THE SEASON TO OPEN IN A FEW WEEKS-AN OPENING DINNER TO BE GIVEN.

The Executive Committee of the Adirondack League Club announces the completion of the new clubhouse, "Mountain Lodge," at Little Moose Lake, and its opening for the reception of members, their families and guests at the beginning of the fishing season of 1893. The clubhouse will be ready for the use of members on May 16, and will remain open until November 1. It is boped that a large number of the members will avail themselves of the privileges of what is probably the most attractive and comfortable club home in th Adirondacks. On Tuesday evening, June 6, a club dinner will be given in the large dining room, to cele brate the opening. A course dinner will be served which will be included in the usual daily or weekly rate. The club dinner will be followed by speeches and ceremonies appropriate to the housewarming.

It is very important that the manager, Captain
H. G. Otis, be informed in advance of the time of the arrival of members, of the number of the party, and the probable length of the stay at each visit, so that he may be able to provide all with suitable accommoda-tions. For the club dinner such notice is especially necessary, and preparation will be made only for such as send the manager due notice. It is advised, also, that members who will go from New-York to attend the club dinner on June 6 should inform the secretary, at No. 203 Broadway, New-York, in order that proper railway accommodations may be obtained. It is probable that the 7 p. m. train on June 5 will attach as many sleeping cars as may be needed, and detach them at Fulton Chain Station, on the Adirondack and St. Lawrence Railroad, early in the morning, so that members may go to the clubhouse at their convenience. Plans of the floors of the new clubhouse may be secured from Captain Oils. The postoffice address of the club is Old Forge, Herkimer County, N. Y.

The homelike clubhouse, Forest Lodge, on Honnedaga Lake, will be opened on May 15. The club has purchased the entire interest of A. D. Barber, but has retained his services as its manager there. Only members of the club, their families and guests are entitled to the privileges of the clubhouse and the hunting and fishing rights of the preserves. Each member may invite a non-member as a guest for a member may invite a non-member as a guest for a period of two weeks each season. Guests' tickets may be obtained of the secretary on application by giving the name of the guest and the period of his proposed visit. The guest should always have the guests' ticket in his possession, and members should at all times wear their badges when on the preserve. At the annual meeting on April 10 the trustees were authorized to raise from $1.200 to $1,500, the price of tile membership shares remaining in the treasury after July 1, 1803. A. G. Mills is president of the club and R. C. Alexander its secretary.

A NEW TRIAL WITH DYNAMITE PROJECTILES.

It was reported at the Navy Yard yesterday that it is contemplated to have another trial of the dynamite projectiles of the cruiser Vesuvius after the naval review. The report of the last trial board is now in the hands of the Bureau of Ordnance at Washington, but it is said to be insufficient to determine whether the vessel will serve all that is expected for the purshe was built, and whether the conditions rejuired are so remote from the circumstances of actual warfare as to make the general value of the Vesuvius questionable. The recent trial was in smooth water and the results are regarded as not entirely satis-factory.

END OF THE SALE OF CURIOUS LITERATURE. The two days' sale of rare and curious books ended yesterday at the rooms of Bangs & Co., No. 739 Broadway. There was a light attendance, and prices Pronaway. There was a figure accurate, and prices we're nearer the usual suction-room figure than on the previous day. A copy of the first edition of Dr. H. R. Stiles's "Bundling," Albany, 1860, was sold for $12. A first edition of H. D. Thowau's "Excursions" brought $5 12, and a fine copy of the first estition of "The Newcomes," London, 1855, was sold for $2 25. Lester Wallack's "Memories of Fifty Years," in sheets, sold for $6, and the first edition of Whittier's poems, Philadelphia, 1838, sold for $7. A water color by "Phiz," signed H. K. B., sold for $1100.

AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

W. J. GAYNOR'S ACTION COMMENDED. MAYOR BOODY'S WEAK REPLY-A LOOPHOLE IN THE STREET RAILWAY LAW.

The action taken by W. J. Gaynor, the lawyer-reformer, to prevent the giving away of valuable railroad franchises for $252,000 by the Aldermen, as fully reported in yesterday's Tribune, was generally discussed in Brooklyn yesterday, and the opinion prevailed that he had done nothing which more entitled him to credit as a public spirited citizen since he prevented the purchase by the city, under Mayor Chapin, of the property of the Long Island Water Supply Company, at the exorbitant price of $1,250,000.

Mr. Gaynor said yesterday: "The Mayor was in the City Hall ready to sign the resolutions of the Aldermen as soon as they were adopted, so as to prevent any one stopping the gift. I knew Mayor Boody was body and soul with the three or four politicians to whom the gift was to be made, and he was told to come down from his house to help the matter through. The newspapers say that the Mayor and the railroad officials held a secret meeting yesterday, and arranged for the payment by the companies of $230,000 for some of the best streets in the city. What a pitiful price! It should have been several millions instead of a quarter of one And what right had the Mayor and Aldermen to part with valuable franchises under secret arrange-Was it not enough of government under a blanket to purchase the Water Supply Company secretly? If the franchises are to be sold why are they not put up at auction openly? I, for one citizen of Brooklyn, have not enough faith in the Mayor to allow him to sell my property secretly. I want it done openly or not at all. I do not care to say anything about the legal aspect of the case." Mayor Boody said, when asked about the matter:

'I think the injunction was unwise, as all the parties concerned in the matter had agreed to meet the expectations of the public. The Common Council was prepared to pass resolutions requiring the cash payment of a considerable sum of money, over $250,000. While I do not believe that sum to represent the amount which the city should ultimately receive as revenue from the street franchises, I am of opinion that it was a fair starting point. The grant would not prevent the passage of a law at any time which would provide for a revenue based upon the gross

Corporation Counsel Jenks defended the Mayor's action and that of the Aldermen by a statement that the law said that a railread could not be built unless a majority of the owners in a street petitioned for it, but excepted the existing street railroad companies and "such other companies as are or may be authorized by haw." In the case of one new com-authorized by law.* In the case of one new company the General Term of the City Court had held that this provision covered its case. The point upon which the injunction was secured had been raised in the Union Street Railroad Company's case, now pending before Judge Cullen, who granted the injunction.

While the injunction applied only to the Nassau Electric Railroad Company, the Aldermen recalled also the action granting a franchise to the Brooking City Railroad Company, which is especially exempted from the provisions of law under which the proceedings were taken. The latter company's offer of $200,000 for the streets granted to the Nassau company and some others is still before the Aldermen, and a new application for certain other streets will be made on Monday.

THE LAST ETHICAL ASSOCIATION LECTURE. The annual meeting of the Brooklyn Ethical Asociation will be held to-morrow evening, in the Second Unitarian Church, at Clinton and Congress sts. All the meetings of the year have been well attended, and the closing one is expected to attract especial atention. The general topic discussed has been "Factors in American Civilization," and among those who have given the forinightly lectures com-prising the course bave been President De Garmo. of Swarthmore College; the Rev. A LONG ISLAND POSTMASTER IN TROUBLE.

Postmaster Peter L. Friedrick, of Glendale, L. 1. was arraigned before before United States Commis-sioner Morie yesterday, and held in $1,000 bonds to answer to a charge of embezzling Government funds. He was appointed to the office he holds on December 12, 1802, at a salary of $254. He was required by law to deposit the Government money, when $50 was in his bands, in New-York, but made no de-posits, and Postoffice In-spector shopf found that the receipts had amounted to $700, but there was little money or stamps on hand, and he arrested Friedrick. The latter said his predecessor tood him he need not deposit the money, but could use it until May 1 and then make the whole amount good in his quarterly report. He did not intend to defraud the Govern-ment or embezzle the funds, but depended on what the former postmaster had told him. Friedrick was directed to appear in court to-day and bring the money to square his accounts.

M'ILVANEY, THE WOUNDED BURGLAR, AR-RESTED.

The condition of Thomas McIlvaney, the burglar who is believed to have been shot by Policeman King, of Stapleton, S. I., early Wednesday morning, while attempting to rob the postoffice at that place, was somewhat improved yesterday. He is still in St. Catherine's Hospital. Several attempts have been made to find the bullet, but the physicians have as vet failed to extract it. Policeman King yesterday called at the Gates Avenue Police Court, and obtained a wargant for the arrest of Mellyaney on a charge of burglary. Several officers are guarding the prisoner.

MRS. SCHMIDT THOUGHT TO BE INSANE.

Mrs. Georgetta Schmidt, the wife of a wealthy resident of Atlanta, Ga., who attempted suicide on Thursday morning from the ferryboat Artzona, was said to be out of danger vesterday. To-day she will be arraigned before Justice Goetting, and will be committed to the Raymond-st, full to await an exam-ination as to her mental condition.

GATHERED ABOUT THE TOWN.

Judge Cullen granted a mandamus yesterday com pelling Long Island City to supply water to ex-Mayor P. J. Gleason for use if the power-house of the Long Island City and Newtown Electric Railroad Company of which he is president. The city authorities allege that Gleason owes the city $2,100 as penalties opening hydrants and Grawing off water. The Court held that the city could not refuse to supply the water asked for, and that the penalties must be recovered by suit.

A team of horses driven by two men employed at Troy-ave, and Malbone-st, came in contact with an electric-light wire which had been blown down Thursday night at the Eastern Parkway and Underhill-ave. and the horses were stunned and fell upon the wire. There was a rubber blanket on each horse, and this probably saved their lives. The men sat in the rain until a policeman appeared, and word was sent to the electric light company to turn off the circuit. The horses were only slightly burt.

D. Field, the physician in the employ of the railroad company and they will make an inspection of the cars together proposed to have a set of rules to govern the action of the railroad employes in the event of the sudder trains, if there is another outbreek of the cholera. If a case of the disease is discovered on a train, the car in which the patient is must be switched at the nearest station and held to await the arrival of the cholera wagon, the well passengers being allowed to go in the other cars of the train. After the removal of a cholera patient from a car, the car will be disinfected before it is used again.

ELECTRIC LAMP MONOPOLY BROKEN.

A PRELIMINARY INJUNCTION DENIED BY A ST. LOUIS JUDGE.

Electricians and people interested in incandescent electric lamps were greatly surprised yesterday at the news of the set-back which the General Electric Comforce its monopoly under the Edison lamp patent. The defendant in the St. Louis case was the Columhis Incandescent Lamp Company of that city. The Edison Company brought suit and asked for the usual preliminary injunction. The Columbia Company set up as a defence the making and using of incandescent electric lamps by Henry Goebel in New-York City for a period of twenty-five years prior to the Edison invention in 1879. The argument before Judge Hallett, sitting in the Circuit Court for the Eastern District of Missouri, occupied four days last week, and the eye of the electrical world have been centred on that city ever since, awaiting the decision.

Electric Company brought suit against them. It was hurriedly and incompletely presented, and Judge Celt held it insufficient to stay the granting of the usual preliminary injunction. Counsel for the Columbia Company, having two months more time, were able to make a much stronger showing. They presented witnesses who had seen the Goebel lamps. Three and put in evidence, together with old tools, documents, etc., which established beyond doubt the truth

After a week's consideration of the 1,000 printed pages of testimony in the case, Judge Hallett yesterday announced his conclusions, to the effect that the new evidence being sufficient probably to invalidate the patent, he must refuse to grant the injunction. Accordingly the Columbia Company will open its factory again and go on with the manufacture of incandescent lamps, and the two companies, as yet unmolested by the Edison people, the New-York and Ohio Company, of Warren, Ohio, and the Swan Company, of Cleveland, will be left free to continue manufacturing and selling lamps, while the testimony is

HEBREWS TO WORSHIP IN CARNEGIE HALL.

For nearly a quarter of a century the Hebrew congregation Shaaray Tefilla has worshipped in its handsome synagogue at No. 127 West Forty-fourth-st., but to-day its regular services will be held in Carnegie Hall, and it will retain that place for its religious exercises for the coming year. At the end of that period it is expected that a new house of worship will be provided. The old building was sold some weeks ago, and the work of demolition has already begun. Its site will be occupied by a large apartment-house. Ground for the new building has been purchased in West Eighty-second-st., between Columbus and Amsterdam aves., upon which construction will begin at once. All of the costly woodwork in the old building will be transferred to the new, including the beautiful ark, which is one of the most remarka-ble in the city. At present the ark stands with its back to a figured wall, but in the new synagogue it will rest in front of a large window of stained glass.

The introduction of the old woodwork will exert an influence on the general style of architecture, which will be of the Spanish-Moorish order.

Shaaray Teilla is one of the oldest H brew congregations in this city. It is an offshoot of Bnat gregations in this city. It is an offsheot of Bhat Jeshurun, now at Madison-ave, and sixty-fifth-st. and was e-tablished in 1845. In speaking of his charge yesterday Dr. F. de Sola Mendes, the rabbi, said: "We belong to the conservative branea of Judaism, but we are not horrified at the introduction of the organ and certain other innovations, as some of our downtown brethren are. We retain the Hi-brew language and the custom of covered heads at our services, however."

FUNERAL OF JOHN LEFFERTS

THIS BURGLAR WAS FIVE YEARS OLD.

A CHILD TWO FEET FIVE INCHES TALL CHARGED WITH TRYING TO STEAL LEAD PIPE. A little fellow not quite two and a half feet in Essex Market Police Court yesterday on a charge of burglary. He was Jacob Cohen, five years old, of No. 181 Attorney st. Samuel Rubenstein, of No. 157 Rivington-st., was the complainant. He said that the child broke into his apartments yesterday and at-tempted to steal some lead pipe. Detective Hussey testified that when arrested the boy tried to escape by slipping between his legs. "It wouldn't have been much loss had he got away," said Justice Koch, "The boy is too young to under-stand right from wrong. He is discharged."

BUYING A CHURCH BUILDING IN HARLEM The Lenox Avenue Union Church of the Disciples, which occupied Arthur Hall, Lenox-ave, and One-

United on September 5, 1889, is to have an edifice of its Goebel own. The paster, the Rev. James Millard Philiputt, states Court of Appeals for this district. The Goebel own. The pastor, the Rev. James Millard Philiputt, defence was first brought forward in Boston last said yesterday that arrangements have been made to buy the white stone church in One hundred andhas heretofore been known as the First Reformed Tuesday and possession will at once be taken. Rumors have been prevalent for a long time that the Lenox Avenue Union Church would build. It is said that the name of the church will be changed to the Lenox Avenue Church in order to prevent mitakes arising from the similarity of the names be tween the Lenox Avenue Union Church and the tween the Lenox Avenue Chion Charch and the Lenox Avenue Union Church has just received a legacy of $10,000 from a friend who was a prime mover in the organization of the church. It is expected that $40,000 more will be received on the fluid settlement of the extate. Several thousand dollars have been received from subscriptions and with the money in hand a partial payment will be made and a mortgage when for the rest. The church her also more to the rest. given for the rest. The church has 140 members the rell. Connected with the church is a flouring sanday-school, an efficient ladies Dorcas Society Christian Endeavor Society and circles of King's So and King's Daughters.

ASSIGNMENT OF A BROKER.

Thomas J. Montgomery, broker and promoter, of No. 66 Broad-st., made an assignment yesterday to The score of companies which have already been John H. Miller, without preference. A judgment was enjoined in other drauits will probably apply to entered against him for $20,273 in favor of John B have their injunctions vacated in view of the St. Foweil on a note dated December 18, 1852, payable Louis decision, and the Edison lamp monopoly will two months after date. The assignment was prebe at an end. The Edison patent runs out in Nothe at an end. The Edison patent runs out in Norember, 1894, and it is hardly probable that final hearing and decision can be reached much before that date. This fittgation has already cost half a million or so. There was an extensive array of counsel in the St. Louis case. For the Columbia Company there appeared Messrs. Witter & Kenyon, of No. 38 Park
Row, New-York; Judge Adams, of St. Louis, and Messrs, Fowler & Fowler, of that city. The Edison Company were represented by Clarence A. Seward, F.
P. Fish and Richard N. Dyer, of New-York, and their resident St. Louis counsel. the company affoat Mr. Montgomery desired to obtain control of the stock, and an agreement was made with Mr. Powell to purchase 10,000 shares of his with Mr. Powell to purchase 10,000 shares of his stock for $10,000 cash, $20,000 in a two months' note and $70,000 in a three months' note. The stock was deposited with the State Trust Company, together with the notes as collateral security. As the notes were not paid when they matured, it is said the stock and notes were delivered up to Mr. Powell. The latter sued Mr. Montgomery to recover the amount of both notes. On the $20,000 judgment was entered yesterday and on the $70,000 note the time has not yet expired to put in judgment,

A FLATRUSH EDITOR ASSAULTED

A fistic encounter took place in the office of "The supervisor," a local paper of Flatbush, L. I., yester-day. George White, the editor of the paper, was engaged at his desk when Thomas Ginss, who is janttor of the town hall and writes for the rival paper, "The Flatbush Press," came into the office, oseph White, who is employed in the office, was the only witness, and says that Glass told White he would break his Jaw. Before Mr. White could realize it he was struck in the face, and then de fended himself. The commotion attracted a crowd and after the men had been lighting for about ten minutes they were separated. Both were covered minutes they were separated. Both were covered with blood, and chairs, tables and type were scattered around promiscuously.

Mr. White is at his home in Clarkson-st., Flatbush, with two black eyes and a badly bruised head, and Dr. H. L. Bartlett was called in to dress his wounds, Mr. Glass has a black eye as the result of the encounter, and says Witte hit him first. This Mr. White denies, and says he will have Glass arrested for assault.
